This month 's video Wilhelm Reich – Viva Little Man

His books were not only banned – they were burned!

This rare archival video interviews some of Reich's controversial work. Jailed for his research on orgone, DOR, and other manifestations of prana, Reich died at the Lewisburg Penitentiary, and his books were burned.

This movie interviews his family, fellow-researchers, and looks at his important and ground-breaking work. It also interviews an FDA historian who gives the official reasoning for his prosecution. The title comes from one of his common statements – it is body armoring that puts people in the position to support suppressive regimes, and stifle their life-force.

Tarot Class with Kathy Eckert Images of Imbolc

Sunday, July 22, 10:30 am – 2 pm –

Please note! This month it is on Sunday!

$10 – half goes to support the Library

Lughnasadh, or Lammas, is a time of change, as the Wheel of the Year changes its focus from growth and increasing light to harvest and the coming journey inward. So, it seems appropriate that this energy shift should also bring a temporary change in the schedule of our Tarot classes.

Just for the July meeting, we will be meeting on Sunday, July 22nd.

Lughnasadh celebrates the gifts of the Celtic Sun God Lugh, even as he voluntarily surrenders himself at the height of his vitality for the good of the land. Please join us as we trace his story through the Tarot, with the 4 Kings, The Emperor, The Hanged Man and the blending of God and Goddess strengths in Temperance.

As always, we'll do this through both group activity and an individualized spread. See you then!

If you want the detail first, email Kathy at Kathy@SeattlemetaphysicalLibrary.org
